

Wraps access to the database to provide a protocol to serve clients, process data.

Fast intermediary database periodically flushed to main. Recieves the same set of parameterized queries from the service. Needs to be performant and available. Large long-term database optimised for low cost disk storage. Needs to allow for schema changes and ad-hoc queries.